ARIZONA MARKS PATRIOT DAY
Flags to Fly at Half-Staff

PHOENIX – Governor Janet Napolitano announced that flags will be lowered at state buildings Thursday, September 11, in honor of Patriot Day.

Patriot Day honors the nearly 3,000 victims who died in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks.

“Although we will all remember the attacks of September 11 for the rest of our lives, tomorrow is an opportunity to pause for a moment to reflect on that day, the victims of the attack and the families they left behind,” Governor Napolitano said. The Governor added, “I also urge Arizonans to reflect on the sacrifice of the thousands of men and women currently serving in our military to protect our country, as well as the sacrifice of their families.”
